SANTA FE COLLEGE'S POLICE DEPARTMENT

The Santa Fe College Police Department (SFPD) is an award-winning fully sworn police agency dedicated to serving in partnership with the college and surrounding communities. SFPD is responsible for patrolling SF's Northwest Campus, as well as SF's six educational centers, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year to ensure the safety of our students, faculty, staff and visitors.

The Santa Fe College Police Department is the first police department in the Florida College System.

The SFPD is seeking qualified police officers to preserve the peace, provide general police services and enforce municipal, county, state and federal laws, as well as the rules and regulations of Santa Fe College. Police officers help to establish a uniform police presence on campus and are responsible for campus law enforcement to ensure the protection of college personnel, students, property and equipment. Police officers are required to work in all weather conditions, as well as varying hours and shifts both days and nights with periodic rotations and changes in work schedules, including being available for call-back duty as required.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Required: High school diploma or equivalent. Applicant must also be eligible to take the State Officer Certification Examination within the next six months and receive a passing score.

Additional Requirements: Applicants must have a valid Florida driver license, and must successfully pass a background investigation, physical examination, drug test and polygraph.
